The mutineers turning Bligh and some of the officers and crew adrift from HMS Bounty on 29 April 1789. Adamstown, the only settlement on the Islands. In 1790, nine of the mutineers from the British naval vessel HMS Bounty, along with the native Tahitian men and women who were with them (six men, 11 women, and a baby girl), settled on Pitcairn Island and set fire to the Bounty.

Pitcairn Island is a beautiful little place, partly because of its remoteness but also because of government protection. The Pitcairn Islands Marine Reserve was established to preserve the pristine condition of the ocean surrounding the island chain. It takes in the entire exclusive economic zone surrounding the island.

The Pitcairn Island Register 1790 - 1854: An unfinished story. There are objects we come across in life that powerfully move us, that evoke a strong emotional response and speak to us far beyond their monetary value. The significance for Mervyn Buffett of "finding" the original Pitcairn Island register of births" deaths and marriages ...

In 2015 I spent three months on the remote British island of Pitcairn in the Pacific. Pitcairn is home to just 42 people, most of whom are descendants of the Bounty Mutiny. In 2004, the island's romantic image was ripped apart by a series of child abuse trials. Now just one child remains. An enigmatic place - legendary and infamous.

The Pitcairn Islands consist of four different islands, of which only the volcanic outcropping of Pitcairn is actually inhabited. While there is evidence of Polynesian tribes living on all four islands before the British, Pitcairn as we know it now is made up entirely of the descendants of British mutineers from the 1790s.

Like the island women before me, I chose silence and survival. (Centre) Pitcairn Girl, found photograph: This anonymous picture was discovered stashed in the back of an album destroyed by water in the last remaining traditional dunnage house on Pitcairn (made from washed up materials thrown overboard by passing ships).

Another advantage is the island's natural beauty and untouched surroundings. Pitcairn Islands' pristine beaches, crystal-clear waters, and breathtaking landscapes make it a perfect destination for nature lovers and those seeking peace and tranquility. However, there are some challenges to consider when investing in real estate in Pitcairn Islands.

Discovery of Pitcairn Island . Captain Philip Carteret first spotted Pitcairn Island in 1767 but couldn't land due to rough seas. He miscalculated its location, marking it miles away from its true position. Years later, Captain Cook showed some interest, but it wasn't until the Bounty mutineers arrived in 1790 that the island gained attention.

Map of Pitcairn Islands. The history of the Pitcairn Islands begins with the colonization of the islands by Polynesians in the 11th century. Polynesian people established a culture that flourished for four centuries and then vanished. They lived on Pitcairn and Henderson Islands, and on Mangareva Island 540 kilometres (340 mi) to the northwest, for about 400 years.
