

What types of outdoor electrical enclosures are available?

Our offerings include powder-coated galvanized steel, stainless steel, and marine-grade aluminium outdoor telecom, electrical or ESS battery storage enclosures. We supply outdoor electrical enclosures and electrical cabinets for low-voltage switchgear and control gear assemblies.

What is included in the RB range of external electrical enclosures?

The RB Range of external electrical enclosures is a highly customisable range, made even better with the addition of RB Accessories. These optional extras include shelves, document pockets, access panels, cable entry holes, 19" rack (except RB460), extra/filtered ventilation, cooling fans, light, tubular heater and consumer unit.

What materials are used for external electrical enclosures?

To ensure a long service life the complete unit is manufactured from 2.0 mm thick stainless steel with a powder coated finish. The RB Range of External Electrical Enclosures, in stainless steel, are smarter, lighter than galvanized cabinets and tougher than GRP. A suitable GRP alternative made to last.

What is a RB electrical enclosure?

The RB range of external electrical enclosures was initially developed with the street lighting and highways industries in mind; however, their highly flexible, modular design means they are suitable enclosures for protecting electrical and/or electronic equipment in the most inhospitable external environments.

What are outdoor Telecom cabinets?

Our outdoor telecom cabinets are designed to protect your sensitive network equipment from harsh environments where equipment may be exposed to dust or water. For added protection, there is a water and dust proof polyurethane door joint strip.

An industrial or electrical enclosure can be used indoor or outdoor to protect your valuable machinery and equipment. Some examples include a compressor for a wastewater treatment plant, housing components for electric gates and auto barriers, housing CCTV equipment, dust extraction units and so much more.
