

How does Djibouti support goal 7?

In the case of Djibouti, the government is very committed to increasing renewable and sustainable energy in the general energy supply. The fact that the government imports hydroelectricity from Ethiopia, the development of geothermal energy and investments in solar energy technology shows that Djibouti supports Goal 7.

How many people in Djibouti have access to electricity?

In Djibouti, 42% of the population has access to electricity. The government's Vision 2035 establishes goals to promote renewable energy source use for electricity generation and to pursue fuel-switching measures from fossil to renewables.

Will Djibouti be self-sufficient in energy production in 2035?

In December 2023, the Republic of Djibouti signed up to the African Green Hydrogen Alliance. The country's formidable prospects in terms of renewable energy means that Slim Feriani can look to the future with confidence. "The objective for 2035 is to be self-sufficient in energy production," he says. "We should get there before then.

Will Djibouti be the first country to produce 100% green energy?

In its bid to become the first country on the continent to produce 100% green energy by 2035, Djibouti can also draw on other ambitious projects. These include the solar power project in the Grand Bara desert, for which work began in 2020.

How will the Ghoubet wind farm impact Djibouti?

In ecological terms, the Ghoubet wind farm will enable Djibouti to reduce its CO2 emissions by around 250,000 tonnes a year. At the same time, it will enable the country to reduce its energy dependence on Ethiopia, from which it currently imports around 50% of its electricity consumption via a high-voltage line.

How does electricity supply work in Djibouti?

Electricity supply services are provided through the vertically integrated utility Electricité de Djibouti (EDD). A small amount of additional energy is generated by a solar plant (300 kW capacity). Djibouti has wind and geothermal generation potential and is actively studying these options. [citation needed]
