The Johannesburg, South Africa-based independent power producer (IPP) has signed an engineering, procurement and construction (EPC) contract for its solar power plant with the South African subsidiary of German company Soventix. Soventix SA will install panels, inverters and other necessary equipment for a 3 MWp power plant in eastern Botswana.

For its implementation, it launched a call for tenders, after which Soventix South Africa was selected. The German company will therefore install a 22 MWp (maximum power) solar photovoltaic park in Bwoni, a small village in Mashonaland-East province, near Harare, the capital of Zimbabwe.
